

Leveraging your IT investments in these turbulent times

Clover Infotech & Oracle® organized a technology forum for IT professionals in Chennai on 18th February 2009 in Hotel Park, to address 'how to leverage your IT investments in these turbulent times'. The forum was attended by nearly 85 IT professionals from various verticals.

The speakers from Oracle® Mr. Datthathiri Srinivasan, Senior Solution Manager – Technologies & Mr. Ramasubramanian Athmanathan, Principal Consultant – Database Technologies gave an insight on various cost effective technology options that Oracle® provides to improve security & performance.

The second half of the session was addressed by Mr. Amit Boraskar, Director – Linux & Open Source, Oracle® He presented a strong value proposition of Oracle Enterprise Linux and seamless migration process from Redhat Enterprise Linux. He touched upon Oracle's offer on Virtualisation in some detail which was of great interest to the gathering.

Clover Infotech a leading Oracle® Technology Solutions & Services Provider has made a mark with innovative & cost effective solutions to manage large enterprise customers across India.

The objective of such technology forums is to educate the customers on various technology solutions available for better returns on their IT investments.

We are committed to plan such technology forums in the future along with our partners. The theme of such technology forums will be based on current business requirement of our customers. Wish to see you all on our next event.
